

Eagle-Tribune photo by Dave Gregory

Caboose fire

A caboose of the Boston and Maine Railroad, scheduled to go out last night, caught fire yesterday in the railroad yard off Andover Street in Lawrence. Fire officials say the fire, that completely gutted the inside of the car, was caused by a range oil burner. There were no injuries in the early afternoon fire and the car will be sent to Billerica for repairs.