

Along The MERRI

A roundup of people, places, events in the Concord area

The Engineer

Courtesy/Paul A. Smith

The time was just after the turn of the century. The railroad, the Boston & Maine; and the man, one of its top engineers, Jerry Callaham. This Pacific-type locomotive, "The Flying Yankee," was delivered to the B & M in 1909, and could go 70 to 80 mph.